Wage Last-Ditch Fight on Aid Funds

REPUBLICANS FIGHT TO CUT DOWN AMOUNT

Measure Expected To Pass In House Today, Then Go To Senate For Final OK.

ROOSEVELT AIMS TARGET

Congressman Says Boys Will Follow Money To Help Britain Win War.

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON—A small opposition band of house Republicans, expressing belief that all-out British aid be-tokened war for the United States, decided on a last-ditch fight today to slash the big $7,000,000,000 lend-lease appropriation before a final vote sends the bill to the senate.

Announcing this forlorn stand in the face of conceded over-whelming administrative strength, Rep. Lambertson (R., Kan.) charged that President Roosevelt was "enthused, . . . joyful almost to tears" at the possibility of becoming a war president of the United States.

This threat of determined resistance failed to arouse concern among the bill's supporters. As the hour for voting approached, leaders of both parties predicted that a tremendous majority would be rolled up for the appropriation to emphasize to the world that "we mean business."

Consideration of amendments was the first order of business for the day, and sponsors of the bill said their strategy would be to crush the first few major propo-sals with top-sided votes. The final roll-call was expected late in the day.

Lambertson, however, declared that he would ask the house to send the measure back to the appropriations committee with instructions to cut it to $5,000,000,000 if for no other reason than to demonstrate "that we dare do it."

Lambertson told the chamber yesterday that the $7,000,000,000 fund request by President Roose-velt was the forerunner of others, and he gave it as his opinion that (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Spurt Boosts Tax Receipts; Deadline Expires Tomorrow

A spurt in Richland county real estate tax collections yesterday and today boosted receipts to $533,711 this morning and bright-ened the prospects for a collection nearly as large as the $675,700 collected during the first half of last year.

Receipts Tuesday totaled $31,626 and the treasurer's office was jammed this morning with property owners trying to beat the deadline Thursday night.

Treasurer John E. Kolb expects another big day tomorrow and with the mail receipts which have not been tabulated and returns from collectors in outlying dis-tricts, he believes the receipts will go well over the $600,000 mark.
Meanwhile, personal tax payers continued to crowd the courthouse lobby where special deputies have been assigned to help file returns.
With personal payments not due until April 1, collections today totaled $32,183, the treasurer said. Personal collections yesterday amounted to $2,172, the average for the past few days.

ROBBERS JAILED

Soviets Tell U. S. Ambassador Church Vandals Picked Up.

MOSCOW—(UP)—The Soviet for-eign office informed United States Ambassador Laurence A. Stein-hardt today that police had ar-rested a gang of professional thieves on charges of robbing five times the Roman Catholic church of St. Louis Des Franciscans whose rector, the Rev. Leopold Braun, is an American.
Steinhardt twice first on Dec. 12 and later on Feb. 2, protested against the robberies.

'Battle of Lexington' [Richland County] to Have Repercussions In Governor's Office

Village Acts To Curb Car-Jammed Road Due To Ice.

By ROBERT E. ROGERS
LEXINGTON — The battle of Lexington was fought 165 years ago, but the battle of Lexington road as staged Sunday night when an estimated 1,000 motorists were stranded on the icy highway is going to have an echo in Colum-bus.

Interested townfolks here yes-terday took steps which they hope will lead to preventing a repetition of such occurrences.

With vivid memories of near-frozen motorists huddled around pot-bellied stoves as they crowded into their homes and business establishments to seek refuge from the storm, a group of businessmen have decided to take their com-plaint directly to Gov. John W. Brecker.

Meeting yesterday at Irvin Cas-tor's Economy garage, the group deputed F. P. Barr, who lives at King's corners, south of this little village to carry their plea to Columbus.

Barr plans to make the trip tomorrow.

In behalf of the residents of this little southern Richland county community he will ask that better road maintenance be provided on U. S. route 42 be-tween Mansfield and the Morrow county line, three miles south of here.

Barr says he will request High-way Director Hal G. Sours to ef-fect more speedy distribution of cinders and salt on the heavily traveled road which passes his farm home.

He will suggest that the state provide more frequent piles of cinders on hills along the road so that trucks and farmers can as-sist stranded drivers when ice does form on the highway.

It isn't that Barr is concerned about himself. He, like other residents in this vicinity, doesn't want to see a repetition of the thing that occurred Sunday when a blizzard suddenly struck.

It was about 5:30 p. m. when the storm hit. An hour later streets and highways were glazed. Trucks and motorists caught un-ware were stranded on hills when their cars failed to make the grades.

Trucks jack-knifed and skidded crosswise on the road because there were no cinders available, Lexington residents claim.

"When state highway patrol-men estimated there were 1,000 cars on the road between Man-sfield and the Morrow county (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

CREW RESCUED

Wooden Ship Breaks In Two on Sandbar In Gale.

BAY SHORE, N. Y. — (UP)—The crew of nine of the 387-ton wooden steamer Student Prince II was rescued early today by coast guardsmen from the Fire Island station after the ship had foundered, broken in two and gone aground on a sand bar in a gale.

The ship, operating out of Hal-lifax, N. S., and belonging to Nova Scotia Shippers, Ltd., was carry-ing 504 tons of coal and was a mile and a half west of the coast guard station when huge waves, whipped up by a 40-mile north-west wind, swamped the ship.

Coast guardsmen in two life-boats labored four hours in the turbulent sea before completing the rescue.

Spring Arrives Tomorrow and Forecast Says It'll Be 'Balmy'

With warm winds moving east-ward from the Rockies to break the cold wave which has grip-ped the nation for three days, spring is expected to arrive officially to-morrow at 7:21 p. m.

And it's really going to feel like spring, according to the weather-man. He predicts mostly cloudy and warmer weather through to-morrow and continuing tomorrow.

Temperatures were expected to go above freezing today and reach the "balmy" point by to-morrow. Last night the mercury dropped to a low of 9 above zero with an average for the past 24 hours of 13.5 as com-pared with an average of 89 for the past 16 years.

Here are two of the many principals involved in the battle of Lexington road Sunday night when an estimated 1,000 found themselves stranded on the high-way unable to move their cars because of ice. At the top, is Lexington's only hotel, a six-room establishment that was filled to capacity for the first time in years. Below is F. P. Barr who lives at King's corners, two miles south of the little village and at whose home chil-dren motorists sought refuge while Mrs. Barr served them steaming hot coffee.

CAVALRY UNIT MOVES ON CITY

400 Men, 200 Pieces of Army Equipment To Stay Here Overnight In April.

Mansfielders will get a look at the first fully mechanized cavalry unit of the United States army next month when 400 men and 200 field artillery pieces pass through the city on their way from Fort Knox, Ky., to a new station in New York state.

Three officers of the unit, a ma-jor and two captains, were in Mansfield yesterday confer-ring with John G. Routon, secre-tary-manager of the chamber of com-merce, and R. B. Gardner regard-ing facilities for housing and feed-ing the men during an overnight stop here.

Coming through the city on U. S. route 42, the men will stop at the local armory where 300 of them will be quartered for the night. The remaining 100 are expected to be taken to the armory at Ashland.

Trucks with machine gun units and field artillery pieces will com-prise the fighting equipment. But with the cavalry will also be mo-bile kitchen units in which food will be prepared.

Officers indicated that prepara-tion of the food would start as the cavalry leaves Columbus and con-tinue en route.

While the unit is in Mansfield, meats, fruits and vegetables will be purchased for the following day.

Officers said definite date of the move had not yet been set but that Mansfield could expect the unit to arrive sometime between April 19 and 25.

COMMANDS SHIP

Millersburg Resident on U. S. Navy's 3-Day Good Will Tour.

MILLERSBURG, Lieut. Com-mander B. S. Anderson of Mil-lersburg, is in command of one of seven U. S. navy warships now making a "three-day good-will" visit to Sydney, Australia, accord-ing to an announcement of the Navy department.

The ships are there on an in-formal visit for "good will and re-membrance" the department stated.

At the completion of the visit the seven warships will return to the operating base at Pearl Har-bor, Hawaii.

347 In Richland Want Quail Retained on Song Bird List

Richland counties who want the Bob White quail kept on the songbird list outnumber the propo-nents of a pending bill to take them off by 347 to 0, a check of signatures on petitions submitted to Jack Easton, chairman of the conservation committee of the Ohio house of representatives, showed today.

Easton said a partial tabulation of the "pro" and "con" letters and petitions he has received so far from 82 of the state's 88 counties show that opponents of the bill are ahead, 41,496 to 164.

Easton said he is receiving hundreds of letters and petitions daily from all parts of the state as the battle over the proposed open season on quail gains mo-mentum.

The measure, backed by the Ohio League of Sportsmen, will be given a hearing Wednesday night, March 26, Easton said.

Representative Charles F. Sweeney, Cuyahoga county, au-thor of the bill to permit con-trolled quail shooting beginning in 1943, said he understood sports-men's groups were preparing thousands of petitions to submit to representatives and senators within a few days.

Backers of the measure argue that there would be more quail in Ohio if an open season is de-clared, since the conservation groups would be more interested in propagating the birds.

In Mansfield, the Nature club members and other bird lovers are circulating petitions to keep the quail on the songbird list because of its value as a destroyer of in-sects and weed seed and its cheer-ful song.

GRAND JURORS TAKE UP CASES OF 3 INMATES

Reformatory Fugitives Back In Mansfield After Dash To West Virginia.

3 CHARGES POSSIBLE

Knives Used To Overpower Guard To Be Exhibited To Probing Panel.

Prosecutor Harold Lutz said this afternoon will investigate the cases of three Mansfield reformatory fugitives who were returned here early today from Ripley, W. Va., where they were captured yesterday following a four-day man hunt in Ohio and neighbor-ing states.

The prosecutor said the cases will be taken directly to the jury without a preliminary hearing and for that reason any indictments that the jury might return will be secret.

Only one charge, that of au-tomobile theft, has been filed against the youths here, but county authorities said they may be named in charges of armed robbery and kidnapping. The grand jury is scheduled to complete a three-day session late today.

The inmates, all trustees who were due for paroles within a few months, were captured yesterday by state police in the mountains near Ripley after the car they were driving mired in the mud.

Although they were still armed with three foot-long butcher knives and a black jack taken from the reformatory, the trio offered no resistance when they were surrounded by officers.

Sheriff Frank E. Robinson who, with two deputies, returned the youths to the Richland county jail at 2 a. m. today, brought the weapons back with them.

The three youths allegedly ab-ducted Harold Schmittke, 24, of 78 North Foster street, Saturday night near Perryville, took $11 from him and fled southward in the car he was driving. Schmittke's brother, Burke, 146 South Main street, owned the car and filed the auto theft charges in Mansfield municipal court.

En route to Mansfield last night, the fugitives told officers they fled from the reformatory last Thursday night because they were "sick of taking orders from a guard." Before they fled, they locked Guard Fred C. Williams (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

DONOVAN TALKS

Meets President, Knox, and Hopkins at White House.

WASHINGTON — (UP)—Presi-dent Roosevelt today called in Secretary of Navy Frank Knox and Harry L. Hopkins for a joint conference with Col. William Donovan who has just returned from a secret mission to Europe. Presenting his report of weeks of travel and observations in Eu-rope, Africa, and the near east, Donovan met Mr. Roosevelt, Knox and Hopkins at 9:45 a. m. in the president's study on the second floor of the White House.

Capt. Stephenson, Veteran Of Two Wars, Dies at Age 67

Capt. Robert W. Stephenson, 67, Mansfield attorney for 35 years, and a soldier in two wars, died at 2 a. m. today at his home at 149 West Jackson avenue after a long-ling illness.

Suffering a stroke several weeks ago, Capt. Stephenson had been unable to continue his law prac-tice and had been in General hos-pital or confined to his home dur-ing the winter.

Known to his friends as "Cap," Mr. Stephenson began his mili-tary career during the Spanish-American war when he enlisted for service.

He was called again during the first World war, going to Fort Benning, Ga., where he was commissioned captain after serving three months as first lieut-enant. At that time he was on the staff of the 33rd Infantry. Later he was at Camp Sherman (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Great Numbers Left Dead In Night Air Raid

RAF Replies With Attacks on German Ports, Nazis Admit Casualties; More British Shipping Sent Down, Berlin Claims.

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON—(INS)—A 50-50 chance exists that Yugoslavia will defy Germany and refuse to join the Axis, informed Washington quarters said today. Latest diplomatic advices from Belgrade state Yugoslavia's attitude has stiffened in the last few days and appears to be growing steadily stronger. Indications are the Yugoslavs may now resist the German demands and prepare to fight along with Greece if attacked.

(By Associated Press)
Germany's Luftwaffe thundered fire-bombs and high explosives on the English shipping city of Hull (Pop. 300,000) in a violent overnight assault, leaving great numbers of dead and wounded.

Dispatches from the bomb-torn city today said the attack was the worst of many suffered there, with the raiders roaring overhead in steady waves, using the same tactics that cost 1,000 lives and 1,300 injured in last week's smashes at Liverpool and Glasgow.

Berlin said several hundred planes engaged in the raid, attacking through the "entire night."

A single high-explosive bomb blasted a shelter and, the only survivor there was a 12-month-old baby.

British RAF bombers countered with a heavy attack on the north German port of Kiel, and again pounded the German naval base at Wilhelmshaven and oil storage tanks at the Nazi-held city of Rotterdam, Holland.

The German high command reported "a number of civilians were killed and many injured" in the RAF's forays against the rich, but asserted damage was "slight."

German long-range bombers stabbed by daylight at a convoy of 35 merchant ships escorted by six British destroyers in the North Atlantic, DNB (official German news agency) reported. One ship of 5,000 to 8,000 tons was reported sunk and another left with a heavy list.

Citing new blows in the critical "battle of the Atlantic," Hitler's high command asserted also that a Nazi speedboat sank two mer-chantmen totalling 10,000 tons in a raid on a convoy off the English southeast coast.

Moreover, the high command said, German submarines sank three other ships totalling 16,500, making a grand total of at least 31,500 tons.

In Rome, the authoritative Fascist editor Virginio Gayda, often called Premier Mussolini's spokesman, declared that United States ships would "expose themselves voluntarily to attack and sinking" in order to disrupt the Axis blockade of England.

London had its longest over-night alarm since last December's dusk-to-dawn attacks, with the sirens wailing shortly after 11 p. m. and the all-clear signal com-ing at dawn. Many homes were (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

New York City Council Bans Muskrat Trapping.

NEW YORK—(INS)—Believe it or not—but the city council today took steps to ban the trap-ping of muskrats in New York City.

That there are actually "trappers" in the big town was brought to light when the council asked the state legisla-ture to prohibit trapping for the next three years.

There is a danger, the council reported, of muskrats becoming extinct as the result of large-scale trapping operations on Staten Island.

Shopping Around...

With MARIANNE

EVEN though the early spring flowers haven't been encouraged enough to bloom outdoors, they're certainly blooming on milady's frocks—and they're really gay and colorful when worn under heavy winter coats, which still must be donned as protection from the chilling winds. . . . Floral prints in a riot of bright, as well as pastel, colors are being shown this springtime, and dots and stripes also are good.

One dress I saw while shopping yesterday that was a bit unusual was of navy blue crepe, brightened at the neckline and sleeve edges with blue and white dotted material, while the skirt of the gown featured reverse tucking. . . . Another dress had a navy background relieved with white dots of all sizes, and a matching, finger-tip length cape. . . . Jackets are very much in vogue this spring too, and an attractive jacket dress at one of the local shops is fashioned in a pale green crepe, printed with little white hats. . . . And if you're really looking for color, another jacket frock I saw yesterday should be just the thing for you. . . . It was made of silk jersey with a white shirtwaist blouse, made gay by red studs, and an all-around pleated skirt in striped fiesta colors, with a girdled waistband of the same. . . . A perky little lineone bolero in navy blue completed this outfit.

As the Chi Sigma sorority is sponsoring a St. Patrick formal dance at the Mansfield-Leland hotel ball room this Saturday night, you'll probably want to attend all decked out in a new gown. . . . And the stores really have some pretty ones just now. . . . For instance, a practical, tailored formal combined a navy blue skirt with a white shirtwaist style top and a white bolero jacket trimmed in red braid. . . . A dainty formal of silk jersey had a white skirt and a coral-toned top, relieved with a white yoke, and a wide white girdle-belt trimmed with a coral design. . . . Fact is, it seems that coral is going to be quite a popular shade for spring formal wear, and in a feminine frock of chiffon, it was pretty when fashioned along Grecian lines, with a round neckline, full, bishop sleeves and a girdled waistline in a design of self-braiding.

CAPEs are very much the thing this spring for both daytime and evening wear, and those I've seen downtown are quite striking. . . . One of beige flannel was trimmed on the shoulders with gold braid, while another of white flannel was floor-length and trimmed with a red beaded design, and still another one of white flannel had epaulets of gold military braid on the shoulders. . . . Chinese mandarin coats are being featured for evening wear too, and a smart one of Chinese red flannel at one of the local shops was decorated with a scrolled design of transparent sequins and white beads.

THE manufacturers of Woodbine toiletries have just packaged all their products in new containers and have also introduced a new scent, Meadowmist. . . . The containers for cologne, talcum and liquid bubble bath in both fragrances combine crystal and maple very attractively, and both scents are very pleasing for springtime. . . . And some grand new bath soaps just on the market come in pretty colors and shapes, with four in a box, and the scents are Carnation, Sandalwood and Pink Roses.

PLAY BRIDGE.
There were seven tables of bridge in play yesterday when Mrs. Ralph Hughes and Mrs. C. C. Sanderson entertained members of the American Legion Bridge club at the Legion home. Prizes were won by Mrs. Ralph Schad, Mrs. Grace Sanborn, Mrs. Ray Fleming and Mrs. Damon Smith. Mrs. H. D. Moorhead and Mrs. Smith will entertain April 1.

SEW FOR CHARITY.
There were 18 members of the Charity club present at the home of Mrs. Paul Stephens, 624 Hawthorne Lane, yesterday for a regular meeting. There were 96 pieces of work completed, and it was reported that 66 pieces had been finished at the preceding meeting. Miss Barbara Stevens was a guest. The next meeting will be held April 1 at the Women's Club. Spring flowers were used for decorations yesterday.

PLAY PINOCCHLE.
Mrs. Earl Lucas, 111 Gibson avenue, was hostess Monday evening to members of Idyll club when pinocchle was played, and prizes were won by Mrs. Charles Yarnan, Jr., Mrs. Joseph Erwin and Mrs. Peter Zeides. Refreshments were served. Appointments were in keeping with the St. Patrick holiday. The next meeting will be held April 21 with Miss Eva Mayer, 142 Vale avenue.

27 ATTEND.
There were 27 present at the meeting of the Get-Together club.

SEEKS 4 MORE STUDENT FLIERS

Ashland College Course Needs Additional Members To Start New Class.

Four more entrants are needed for a new class in college pilot training sponsored by the Civil Pilot Training program for Ashland college students. Walter Shuey, former operator of Ashland airport, announced today.

Shuey has hanged his planes at the municipal airport since the Ashland field closed six weeks ago, and trains the college at the Hayesville emergency flying field.

Six students have already signed up for the course which will probably get under way next week. Dean R. R. Hawn of Ashland college, instructs the students in a 12 weeks' program of meteorology, flight navigation, the theory of flight and civil air regulations. Thirty-five to 45 hours of flight training are given the entrants, the time required to obtain a civilian flying license.

Plans have been made to build a new airport at Ashland. A condemning property program is being carried out to provide land for the field which is expected to open in about 60 days.

Entrants in the class must have two years of college education, successfully pass a physical examination and be between 18 and 26 years of age.

St. Peter's Class Presents Play During Assembly

This group of St. Peter's high school students heard vocations and avocations stressed at an assembly program planned by the sophomore class. The class is pictured here following a playlet, "What Shall I Be?" written and directed by Sister Laurene, English instructor.

PLAY, 'WHAT SHALL I BE?' GIVEN AS PART OF PROGRAM FOR CLASS

St. Peter's high school sophomore class members are already considering vocations and avocations they will follow after graduation. Their attention was directed to work in all walks of life by Miss R. C. Goebel in a special sophomore assembly this week.

A playlet, "What Shall I Be?" written by Sister Laurene, English instructor, and enacted by a sophomore group, expressed the same thought. In the cast were Rosemary Bikar, Rosemary Bingert, Mary Pagani, Mary Kmetz, Mary Ann Cusic, Margaret Graska and Edward Lichtle.

Elizabeth McDevitt gave the introduction, readings were presented by Theresa Zaro and Mary Buzenski, and Marcine Zimmerman and Grace Letezia each gave a vocal solo.

The remaining classmen were heard in choral selections.

St. Peter's sophomore class is composed of the following members: Edward Lichtle, Mary Pagani, Mary Kmetz, Thelma Conroy, Martha Dening, Ruth Turk, Joan Perl, Theresa Keipp, Susan Bosch, Margaret Mertler, Virginia Eichinger, Cecelia Rachel, Mary Ferris, Theresa Zaro, Aileen Dillon, Mary Buzenski, Marcine Zimmerman, Grace Letezia.

Elizabeth McDevitt, Rosemary Bingert, Mary Ann Cusic, Margaret Graska, Mary Knapp, Rosemary Massa, Rose Marie Horvath, Catherine Zorning, Anna Romano, Margaret Murphy, Rosemary Bikar, Eleanor Dropsey, Joan Hiser, Elizabeth Corneck, Anna Cross.

OPERA STUDENTS HAVE CHANCE TO COMPETE FOR CASH PRIZE

Young opera students of Richland and Ashland counties, as well as 15 other counties in northeastern Ohio, will be given the opportunity of competing for a $1,000 prize for use in furthering their vocal education.

Offered by Florindo Luccioni, Cleveland restaurateur and friend of the opera, in celebration of the 25th anniversary of the establishment of his business, the competition is open to any young man or woman between the ages of 18 to 25, inclusively.

Entrants must have had a minimum of three years' instruction in operatic singing and must present the recommendation of two reputable musicians in his or her community.

A committee of four has been asked to administer the award and to conduct preliminary auditions in preparation for the final auditions which are expected to be held in Cleveland during Opera week, April 14-19.

According to contest rules applicants must be able to sing two standard operatic arias of their own choosing. An expert accompanist will play for all applicants in the preliminary and final auditions unless an applicant specifically asks to use his own accompanist. Applications must be in the hands of the committee by April 1.

Reservations for the 16th annual season of the Metropolitan Opera company in Cleveland are now being made at Jones Piano House, Park avenue west.

PRESENT IRISH OPERETTA SOON

FREDERICKTOWN—Miss Nelle Jo Dyer is presenting the Music department of Fredericktown high school in an Irish opera, "Bits o' Blarney" in two acts by Otis M. Carrington, Tuesday, March 25th in the high school auditorium.

The cast of characters are: Peggy—Kate Weller; Patrick—Robert Steel; Robert—Paul Wells; Mary—Belle Deihl; Mike O'Noble—Russell Mishey; Agnes—Rowena Frazier; Rosie—Beverly Hobson and a chorus of boys and girls.

—and Nickles' ENRICHED BREAD is helping me do it!..

"Maybe it's kinda hard for you to believe that the bread in this sandwich I'm eatin' has anything to do with our National Defense . . . But it has!"

"The biggest medicos and nutrition experts say so. They got together down in Washington to figure out a big health and welfare program for all America. Food and Nutrition Committee of The National Research Council, they're called . . . and they say that every citizen's got to watch his health, so he can do his job just right."

"Bread, they decide, is a food that ought to give us Vitamins and Iron . . . and a feller that does hard work like me, needs more than most folks. It should be 'ENRICHED' . . . is the way they say it."

"Well, sir, the folks that bake the bread I like best want to do their bit, too. So they bring out this new Nickles Enriched White Bread. Boy, I'm telling you, it's great! "Say, why don't you get smart? Tell your wife to get a loaf of that new Enriched Bread and you'll find out how good it is."

Each Pound Contains a Minimum of:

THIAMINE (VITAMIN B1) 1 mg. The "Morale Vitamin," essential to normal nerve functioning; promotes growth; is needed to help the body turn carbohydrate foods (starches and sugar) into useful energy. • THE P-P FACTOR (AN ESSENTIAL OF THE VITAMIN B COMPLEX) 4 mg. Helps maintain normal functioning of the digestive tract and of the skin. IRON—4 mg. Needed to help the body build red blood cells.

Detroit Vets Not Dead Yet

Tigers Believe They'll Win Pennant Again.

LAKELAND, Fla.—(AP)—Ever since the Detroit Tigers gasped their way to the last American league championship and then were beaten into a state of exhaustion by Cincinnati in the world series it has been customary to regard them as dead pigeons.

With but slight variation the saying has been: "Well, whoever wins in the American league, it won't be Detroit." The recent realization that big Hank Greenberg, the Tigers' greatest slugger, was due to be drafted any minute has swelled the dirge for Del Baker's team.

After looking them over in training camp here, the suspicion arises that the Tigers might have been planted a little prematurely. They feel they have an even chance of repeating, with or without Greenberg. It probably would be rash to pick them over either Cleveland or the New York Yankees, but it would be equally foolish to think they will not be a powerful factor in the coming race.

Looking back on the Tigers last year, they won out partially because the strife-torn Cleveland Indians collapsed and partially because they (the Tigers) had two great pitchers in Buck Newsom and Lynwood Rowe and three tremendous hitters in Greenberg, Rudy York and Barney McCosky.

They lost the world series, which they entered tired and weary. But they made it as close as the next breath and it might have been a vastly different story if Rowe had not fallen down completely in his two series starts.

If and when Greenberg goes (and he says "I'm ready to go the minute they call me") it can't help being a blow to the Tigers. Yet it will not necessarily prove a knock-out. They still will have three dangerous hitters in McCosky (340), York (.316) and Charlie Gehringer (.312). They still will have Newsom (21-5), Rowe (16-3) and Tommy Bridges (12-9) to pace their pitching staff.

Peckinpough Picks Tribe

Says Yanks Will Finish Second, Tigers Third.

BRADENTON, Fla.—(AP)—Manager Roger Peckinpough of the Cleveland Indians today picked his team to win the American league pennant with the New York Yankees to finish second and the championship Detroit Tigers to wind up in third.

The Indian manager would not give any details on his choice of the Tribe but did go into his selection of the Yankees and Tigers.

"The Tigers are not going to be as weak as many people think," Peckinpough said, "but losing Hank Greenberg, as they are expected to do, would be a hard blow to take. The Yankees are promising as usual but there are a few 'ifs' in their infield and in the pitching box."

The Indians prepared today to meet Louisville of the American association before going to St. Petersburg tomorrow to face the St. Louis Cardinals for the second time.

The Indians displayed their best hitting form in the grapefruit league yesterday when they connected for 10 hits to defeat Rochester, champions of the International league last year, 13 to 4, at West Palm Beach.

Centerfielder Soup Campbell and Third Baseman Russ Peters paced the attack with three blows apiece, all singles, but the day's batting honors went to Pitcher Bill Zuber whose triple with the bases loaded climaxed an eight run rally in the eighth inning.

BUDDY WALKER DROPS SECOND FIGHT NOD

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Jack (Buddy) Walker, Columbus heavyweight, owned his second professional boxing defeat in 36 fights today.

Walker dropped a 10-round decision last night to Roscoe Toles of Detroit in the feature bout on a Columbus fight card.

Freddie Pope, sensational Columbus bantamweight, took an eight round decision from Cleveland Brown of Akron for his 36th straight professional win.

Supplies Enter Willard Joust

Meet Birmingham Firemen In Tourney Saturday.

Mansfield Athletic Supplies, who meet Blue Goose Sohoans next Tuesday night at the high school gym in a playoff for the City A league championship, in the meantime will be battling for another title in the Willard tournament.

The Supplies have chalked up nine straight victories, and will be seeking their tenth when they meet the Birmingham Firemen at 12:15 Saturday in the class A division at Willard.

The Firemen last week met Chase Brass of Cleveland in the finals of the Cleveland public hall tourney, and are rated among the favorites for the Willard title.

Earlier this season the Firemen defeated the Athletics 50-41 in a game at Birmingham, after leading 34-14 at the half.

Supply players have been asked to meet at the store at 11 a. m. Saturday to make the trip.

Four Stations To Air Tourney

Gillom, 20 Saturday, Plays Last Game.

COLUMBUS, O.—(AP)—Basketball poultour gathered along the state tournament front.

Lieut. Gov. Paul M. Herbert coached Hicksville high school's first basketball team 27 years ago. . . . When he learned that the 1941 Hicksville team had reached the state basketball finals, said Paul, "well that proves what a firm foundation will do."

Cage hysteria is setting a new all-time record in the Buckeye state. . . . Already four radio stations have notified Athletic Commissioner H. R. Townsend of their intention of broadcasting the tourney games. . . . Stations to air the games, at least those involving their own teams, are WLOK of Lima, WHBC of Canton, WHIZ of Zanesville, and WFMP of Youngstown. . . . At least two more are expected to make last minute decisions to let the fans back home who couldn't make the trip hear how their teams are doing.

The state basketball tournament trip will be a birthday present to five boys on competing teams. . . . Horace Gillom, giant negro star of the Massillon Tigers, will celebrate his 20th birthday Saturday—but that won't make him or the Tiger team happy. . . . He becomes ineligible for further competition on the day of the finals. . . .

Others celebrating birthdays during tournament week are Harvey Clark, of Hanover, who will be 18 on Friday, Howard Shaull of Loudonville, whose birthday cake will carry 18 candles on Saturday, Dick Graham, of Cridersville, who celebrates his 17th birthday Thursday and Don McBride, of Fairfield, who will be "sweet 16" Saturday.

McBride is one of the few freshmen players in the classic.

ABE SIMON BUILDS UP OWN BALLYHOO

DETROIT, Mich.—(AP)—Pondorous Abe Simon, never knocked off his feet in 50 tough battles, presented a one-man ballyhoo in his own behalf today over his chances of accomplishing the seemingly impossible—defeating Joe Louis.

Simon says nobody believes him, but he is convinced, deep in his heart, that he has an excellent chance against the Brown Bomber, whom he meets in Detroit's Olympia arena Friday night in a bout scheduled for 20 rounds, or less.

Injuries Hurt Red Practice

Six Listed Among Lame And Halt at Tampa.

TAMPA, Fla.—(AP)—Last year, it was complained by people who thought that the Cincinnati Reds deserved neither a National league pennant nor a world's championship, they were too lucky and never lost their stride because of injuries.

This year, the Reds hope, they are pacifying the complainants in advance, with six good men and true listed among the lame and the halt in the spring camp, and they hope also that that's as far as the business will go.

None of the ailments so far is serious, although a couple of them have forced the Reds to buy a new catcher, one Johnny Riddle of the Kansas City Blues in the American Association.

Ernie Lombardi, who was done out of the World series fun by a sprained ankle, is still hobbling some and Dick West, who was counted on to some degree as his stand-in is suffering from a sore arm, complicated by an inability to get under fouls.

The latest victims, though, are Stars Paul Derringer and Frank McCormick, both hit by batted balls yesterday. Paul was cut down in batting practice and Frank in the fourth inning on the exhibition game with the Detroit Tigers. Dr. Freed Shank, club physician, told both of them to take it easy for a few days.

Bill Werber is also horsed combat because of a slide into a base Saturday at Orlando and Ivat Goodman's trick shoulder, first wrenched in the 1938 All Star game, is bothering him some more.

Riddle, who is expected to get considerable work with the Reds, is 34 and a big brother of the team's rookie pitcher, Elmer. He hit 280 last year with the Blues, who acquired him from the Boston Bees two years ago in the deal for Shortstop Eddie Miller.

Bobcats Topple Duquesne

Baumholtz Bags 22 In Tournament Opener.

NEW YORK—(AP)—An Ohio basketball team won a game here last night but most of the cheering was done in its home city about 600 miles away.

Ohio University's alert five defeated Duquesne's veteran court combination, 55-50, in the opening game of the national invitation basketball tournament at Madison Square Garden, and when the news reached Athens, O., bedlam reigned.

Fire whistles and sirens made the night as noisy as midnight on Dec. 31, while students rounded up the college band and paraded the streets.

A capacity crowd of 15,700 here saw the Ohioans win in a game which was undecided until the latter part of the last half.

The score was tied seven times in the first half which left Duquesne a two-point leader.

The Dukes started the second half from the 26-24 score as if they were going to control the game. For the first two minutes the boys from Athens never had their hands on the ball, but then they made 21 straight points before Duquesne scored again.

Although Moe Becker and Paul Widowitz of Duquesne staged a mild rally by dropping in several long ones, Ohio's Frankie Baumholtz and Carl Ott matched their performance to keep Ohio well in the lead.

Baumholtz lived up to his all-star reputation with nine field goals and four free throws for a total of 22 points. Ott was close behind with 19.

Ohio University broke two tournament records with 15 free throws made to top Colorado's 13 made last year, and Ott made nine out of 53, to surpass the record of seven established by Bill Lloyd of St. John's in 1939.

City College of New York used a different style but it was just as effective in beating the University of Virginia 64 to 35. The Beavers relied upon fast passing and cutting for the basket but could cage long shots when necessary. Virginia kept pace for the first half, City leading 23-19, but couldn't match the local boys' speed later in the game, especially after Bill Harman and Bill McCann went out of the game on personal fouls.

Wage Last-Ditch Fight on Aid Funds

REPUBLICANS FIGHT TO CUT DOWN AMOUNT

Measure Expected To Pass In House Today, Then Go To Senate For Final OK.

ROOSEVELT AIMS TARGET

Congressman Says Boys Will Follow Money To Help Britain Win War.

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON—A small opposition band of house Republicans, expressing belief that all-out British aid betokened war for the United States, decided on a last-ditch fight today to slash the big $7,000-000,000 lease-lend appropriation before a final vote sends the bill to the senate.

Announcing this forlorn stand in the face of conceded overwhelming administration strength, Rep. Lambertson (R., Kan.) charged that President Roosevelt was "enthused, . . .
joyful almost to tears" at the possibility of becoming a war president of the United States.

This threat of determined resistance failed to arouse concern among the bill's supporters. As the hour for voting approached, leaders of both parties predicted that a tremendous majority would be rolled up for the appropriation to emphasize to the world that "we mean business."

Consideration of amendments was the first order of business for the day, and sponsors of the bill said their strategy would be to crush the first few major proposals with top-sided votes. The final roll-call was expected late in the day.

Lambertson, however, declared that he would ask the house to send the measure back to the appropriations committee with instructions to cut it to $5,000-000,000 if for no other reason than to demonstrate "that we dare do it."

Lambertson told the chamber yesterday that the $7,000,000,000 fund request by President Roosevelt was the forerunner of others, and he gave it as his opinion that

Spurt Boosts Tax Receipts; Deadline Expires Tomorrow

A spurt in Richland county real estate tax collections yesterday and today boosted receipts to $533,711 this morning and brightened the prospects for a collection nearly as large as the $675,700 collected during the first half of last year.

Receipts Tuesday totaled $31-626 and the treasurer's office was jammed this morning with property owners trying to beat the deadline Thursday night.

Treasurer John E. Kolb expects another big day tomorrow and with the mail receipts which have not been tabulated and returns from collectors in outlying districts, he believes the receipts will go well over the $600,000 mark.

Meanwhile, personal tax payers continued to crowd the courthouse lobby where special deputies have been assigned to help file returns.
With personal payments not due until April 1, collections today totalled $32,183, the treasurer said.
Personal collections yesterday amounted to $2,172, the average for the past few days.

ROBBERS JAILED

Soviets Tell U. S. Ambassador Church Vandals Picked Up

MOSCOW—(AP)—The Soviet foreign office informed United States Ambassador Laurence A. Steinhardt today that police had arrested a gang of professional thieves on charges of robbing five times the Roman Catholic church of St.
Louis Des Francs whose rector, the Rev. Leopold Braun, is an American.

Steinhart twice first on Dec.
12 and later on Feb. 2, protested against the robberies.

'Battle of Lexington' [Richland County] to Have Repercussions In Governor's Office

Village Acts To Curb Car-Jammed Road Due To Ice.

By ROBERT E. ROGERS
LEXINGTON — The battle of Lexington was fought 165 years ago, but the battle of Lexington road as staged Sunday night when an estimated 1,000 motorists were stranded on the icy highway is going to have an echo in Columbus.

Interested townfolks here yesterday took steps which they hope will lead to preventing a repetition of such occurrences.

With vivid memories of near-frozen motorists huddled around pot-bellied stoves as they crowded into their homes and business establishments to seek refuge from the storm, a group of businessmen have decided to take their complaint directly to Gov. John W.
Bricker.

Meeting yesterday at Irvin Castor's Economy garage, the group delegated F. P. Barr, who lives at King's corners, south of this little village to carry their plea to Columbus.

Barr plans to make the trip tomorrow.

In behalf of the residents of this little southern Richland county community he will ask that better road maintenance be provided on U. S. route 42 between Mansfield and the Morrow county line, three miles south of here.

Barr says he will request Highway Director Hal C. Sours to effect more speedy distribution of cinders and salt on the heavily traveled road which passes his farm home.

He will suggest that the state provide more frequent piles of cinders on hills along the road so that trucks and farmers can assist stranded drivers when ice does form on the highway.

It isn't that Barr is concerned about himself. He, like other residents in this vicinity, doesn't want to see a repetition of the thing that occurred Sunday when a blizzard suddenly struck.

It was about 5:30 p. m. when the storm hit. An hour later streets and highways were glazed.
Trucks and motorists caught unawares were stranded on hills when their cars failed to make the grades.

Trucks jack-knifed and skidded crosswise on the road because there were no cinders available, Lexington residents claim.

"When state highway patrolmen estimated there were 1,000 cars on the road between Mansfield and the Morrow county

CREW RESCUED

Wooden Ship Breaks In Two on Sandbar In Gale.

BAY SHORE, N. Y. — (UP) —
The crew of nine of the 387-ton wooden steamer Student Prince II was rescued early today by coast guardsmen from the Fire Island station after the ship had foundered, broken in two and gone aground on a sand bar in a gale.

The ship, operating out of Halifax, N. S., and belonging to Nova Scotia Shippers, Ltd., was carrying 504 tons of coal and was a mile and a half west of the coast guard station when huge waves, whipped up by a 40-mile northwest wind, swamped the ship.

Coast guardsmen in two life-boats labored four hours in the turbulent sea before completing the rescue.

Spring Arrives Tomorrow and Forecast Says It'll Be 'Balmy'

With warm winds moving eastward from the Rockies to break the cold wave which has gripped the nation for three days, spring is expected to arrive officially tomorrow at 7:21 p. m.

And it's really going to feel like spring, according to the weatherman. He predicts mostly cloudy and warmer weather through tonight and continuing tomorrow.

Temperatures were expected to go above freezing today and reach the "balmy" point by tomorrow. Last night the mercury dropped to a low of 9 above zero with an average for the past 24 hours of 13.5 as compared with an average of 39 for the past 16 years.

Here are two of the many principals involved in the battle of Lexington road Sunday night when an estimated 1,000 found themselves stranded on the highway unable to move their cars because of ice. At the top, is Lexington's only hotel, a six-room establishment that was filled to capacity for the first time in years. Below is F. P.
Barr who lives at King's corners, two miles south of the little village and at whose home children sought refuge while Mrs. Barr served them steaming hot coffee.

CAVALRY UNIT MOVES ON CITY

400 Men, 200 Pieces of Army
Equipment To Stay Here
Overnight In April.

Mansfielders will get a look at the first fully mechanized cavalry unit of the United States army next month when 400 men and 200 pieces of artillery pieces pass through the city on their way from Fort Knox, Ky., to a new station in New York state.

Three officers of the unit, a major and two captains, were in Mansfield yesterday conferring with John G. Routzon secretary-manager of the chamber of commerce and R. B. Gardner regarding facilities for housing and feeding the men during an overnight stop here.

Coming through the city on U. S. route 42, the men will stop at the local armory where 300 of them will be quartered for the night. The remaining 100 are expected to be taken to the armory at Ashland.

Trucks with machine gun units and field artillery pieces will comprise the fighting equipment. But with the cavalry will also be mobile kitchen units in which food will be prepared.

Officers indicated that preparation of the food would start as the cavalry leaves Columbus and continue en route.

While the unit is in Mansfield, meats, fruits and vegetables will be purchased for the following day.

Officers said definite date of the move had not yet been set but that Mansfield could expect the unit to arrive sometime between April 19 and 25.

347 In Richland Want Quail Retained on Song Bird List

Richland countians who want the Bob White quail kept on the songbird list outnumber the opponents of a pending bill to take them off by 347 to 0. A check of signatures on petitions submitted to Jack Easton, chairman of the conservation committee of the Ohio house of representatives, showed today.

Easton said a partial tabulation of the "pro" and "con" letters and petitions he has received so far from 82 of the state's 88 counties show that opponents of the bill are ahead, 41,496 to 164.

Easton said he is receiving hundreds of letters and petitions daily from all parts of the state as the battle over the proposed open season on quail gains momentum.

The measure, backed by the Ohio League of Sportsmen, will be given a hearing Wednesday night, March 26, Easton said.

Representative Charles E.
Sweeney, Cuyahoga county, author of the bill to permit controlled quail shooting beginning in 1943, said he understood sportsmen's groups were preparing thousands of petitions to submit to representatives and senators within a few days.

Backers of the measure argue that there would be more quail in Ohio if an open season is declared, since the conservation groups would be more interested in propagating the birds.

In Mansfield, the Nature club members and other bird lovers are circulating petitions to keep the quail on the songbird list because of its value as a destroyer of insects and weed seed and its cheerful song.

GRAND JURORS TAKE UP CASES OF 3 INMATES

Reformatory Fugitives Back In Mansfield After Dash To West Virginia.

3 CHARGES POSSIBLE

Knives Used To Overpower Guard To Be Exhibited To Probing Panel.

Prosecutor Harold Lutz said this afternoon will investigate the cases of three Mansfield reformatory fugitives who were returned here early today from Ripley,
W. Va., where they were captured yesterday following a four-day man hunt in Ohio and neighboring states.

The prosecutor said the cases will be taken directly to the jury without a preliminary hearing and for that reason any indictments that the jury might return will be secret.

Only one charge, that of automobile theft, has been filed against the youths here, but county authorities said they may be named in charges of armed robbery and kidnapping.
The grand jury is scheduled to complete a three-day session late today.

The inmates, all trustees who were due for paroles within a few months, were captured yesterday by state police in the mountains near Ripley after the car they were driving mired in the mud.

Although they were still armed with three foot-long butcher knives and a black jack taken from the reformatory, the trio offered no resistance when they were surrounded by officers.

Sheriff Frank E. Robinson who, with two deputies, returned the youths to the Richland county jail at 2 a. m. today, brought the weapons back with them.

The three youths allegedly abducted Harold Schmittke, 24, of 78 South Foster street, Saturday night near Perryville, took $11 from him and fled southward in the car he was driving. Schmittke's brother, Burke, 146 South Main street, owned the car and filed the auto theft charges in Mansfield municipal court.

En route to Mansfield last night, the fugitives told officers they fled from the reformatory last Thursday night because they were "sick of taking orders from a guard." Before they fled, they locked Guard Fred C. Williams

DONOVAN TALKS

Meets President, Knox, and Hopkins at White House.

WASHINGTON — (UP) — President Roosevelt today called in Secretary of Navy Frank Knox and Harry L. Hopkins for a joint conference with Col. William Donovan who has just returned from a secret mission to Europe.

Presenting his report of weeks of travel and observations in Europe, Africa, and the near east, Donovan met Mr. Roosevelt, Knox and Hopkins at 9:45 a. m. in the president's study on the second floor of the White House.

Messages said today that American-built warplanes for use in the expected German-British battle of the Balkans started arriving today at Greek mainland airports.

One message said the planes, flown from Cairo by the RAF, were the first American-built machines to be based in Greece.
There were no details on the number of them or their types.

Capt. Stephenson, Veteran Of Two Wars, Dies at Age 67

Capt. Robert W. Stephenson, 67, Mansfield attorney for 35 years, and a soldier in two wars, died at 2 a. m. today at his home at 149
West Dickson avenue after a long illness.

Suffering a stroke several weeks ago, Capt. Stephenson had been unable to continue his law practice and had been in General hospital or confined to his home during the winter.

Known to his friends as "Cap,"
Mr. Stephenson began his military career during the Spanish-American war when he enlisted for service.

He was called again during the first World war, going to Fort Benjamin Harrison Ind. where he was commissioned captain after serving three months as first lieutenant. At that time he was in the 3rd division, 31st Infantry.
Later he was at Camp Sherman

Great Numbers Left Dead In Night Air Raid

RAF Replies With Attacks on German Ports, Nazis Admit Casualties;
More British Shipping Sent Down, Berlin Claims.

BULLETIN.
WASHINGTON—(INS)—A 50-50 chance exists that Yugoslavia will defy Germany and refuse to join the Axis, informed Washington quarters said today. Latest diplomatic advices from Belgrade state Yugoslavia's attitude has stiffened in the last few days and appears to be growing steadily stronger. Indications are the Yugoslavs may now resist the German demands and prepare to fight along with Greece if attacked.

(By Associated Press)
Germany's Luftwaffe thundered fire-bombs and high explosives on the English shipping city of Hull (Pop. 300,000) in a violent overnight assault, leaving great numbers of dead and wounded.

Dispatches from the bomb-torn city today said
the attack was the worst of many suffered there, with the raiders roaring overhead in steady waves, using the same tactics that cost 1,000 lives and 1,300 injured in last week's smashes at Liverpool and Glasgow.
Berlin said several hundred planes engaged in the raid, attacking through the "entire night."

A single high-explosive bomb blasted a shelter and, the only survivor there was a 12-month-old baby.

British RAF bombers countered with a heavy attack on the north German port of Kiel, and again pounded the German naval base at Wilhelmshaven and oil storage tanks at the Nazi-held city of Rotterdam, Holland.

The German high command reported "a number of civilians were killed and many injured" in the RAF's forays against the reich, but asserted damage was "slight."

German long-range bombers stabbed by daylight at a convoy of 35 merchant ships escorted by six British destroyers in the North Atlantic, DNB (official German news agency) reported. One ship of 5,000 to 8,000 tons was reported sunk and another left with a heavy list.

Citing new blows in the critical "battle of the Atlantic," Hitler's high command asserted also that a Nazi speedboat sank two merchantmen totalling 10,000 tons in a raid on a convoy off the English southeast coast.

Moreover, the high command said, German submarines sank three other ships totalling 16,500 making a grand total of at least 31,500 tons.

In Rome, the authoritative Fascist editor Virginio Gayda, often called Premier Mussolini's spokesman, declared that United States ships would "expose themselves voluntarily to attack and sinking" in order to disrupt the Axis blockade of England.

London had its longest overnight alarm since last December's dusk-to-dawn attacks, with the sirens wailing shortly after 11
p. m. and the all-clear signal coming at dawn. Many homes were

New York City Council Bans Muskrat Trapping.

NEW YORK — (INS) — Believe it or not—but the city council today took steps to ban the trapping of muskrats in New York

That there are actually "trappers" in the big town was brought to light when the council asked the state legislature to prohibit trapping for the next three years.

There is a danger, the council warned, of muskrats becoming extinct as the result of large-scale trapping operations on State Island.

News Happenings From Communities In Richland County, Vicinity

ASHLAND GETS FUNDS TO USE ON STREET JOBS

Main Street, Cleveland Avenue To Be Resurfaced; Garbage Disposal Studied.

ASHLAND—The City Council Monday evening appropriated $3,000 to be paid to State highway department as the city's share in the resurfacing of Main street and Cleveland avenue. Main street will be improved from Union street to Claremont avenue and Cleveland avenue from Union street to Miller street, T-37 resurfacing to be used in the repair and improvement.

An appropriation of $750 was made for the purchase of equipment and supplies for the garbage department to aid in the experimentation to find the most satisfactory and most economical method of garbage disposal. An additional appropriation of $850 was voted for the purchase of a motor truck for use in the garbage department.

The purchase of a safe for use in the waterworks office was discussed and $300 appropriated for this purpose.

Discussion of parking problems, traffic lights and damaged sidewalks and streets followed. A special meeting is planned for Monday to further consider the installation of parking meters and to consider some plan for the repair of the badly damaged streets.

DEAN GIVES ADDRESS

ASHLAND—The student's part in the defense program of America was an interesting subject to the Ashland college students when Dean R. R. Haun addressed them Tuesday. "The College Student Faces Military Service" was the topic he used to portray his viewpoint.

OFFER BIDS TO BUY BUILDING

Galion Contractors Submit Highest Proposal For Hospital Purchase.

GALION—Weithman Brothers, local contractors, were the highest bidders on the purchase of the old Good Samaritan hospital building when bids were read at the annual meeting of the Good Samaritan Hospital association, Tuesday night.

Trustees of the association were authorized to sell the real estate and the president and secretary of the association, E. P. Monroe and Mrs. Jud V. Dye, respectively, were authorized to execute a deed for the property.

Weithman Brothers could not be reached late Tuesday night to confirm their part of the contract, or for what purpose they will use the building. The hospital now in disuse since the operation of the new city hospital, is located on West Alwood street. Formerly a large residence, the building had housed Good Samaritan hospital since 1913.

Annual reports were read and accepted during the meeting of the association which was held at the public library, and the two trustees, Mrs. Harvey C. Huy and Mrs. C. F. Unckrich, were re-elected to complete the board which will continue to function until all accounts are closed.

Officers of the board were re-elected as follows: president, E. P. Monroe; vice president, Curtis W. Tracht; secretary, Mrs. Jud V. Dye; treasurer, Mrs. C. F. Unckrich.

In addition to the $13,000 which the hospital board turned over last summer to the city for the purpose of constructing the new city hospital, the amount of $2,000, representing hospital earnings, was authorized to be turned over to the city.

Mrs. Dye was retained by the board to close accounts of the Good Samaritan hospital.

Tells Bucyrus Auxiliary of Accomplishments

BUCYRUS—Mrs. C. C. Oyler, Postoria, district president of the American Legion auxiliary, summarized accomplishments of the auxiliary during the past year in a talk before members of the Bucyrus unit in Legion hall, Monday night.

In addition to the talk by Mrs. Oyler, a program was presented under the direction of Mrs. Earl Bibby, colonial American chairman. Members of the junior auxiliary presented the program which included three plays.

During the business interval the resignation of Mrs. R. J. Caton as president was accepted and Mrs. C. C. Richard was appointed to serve the unexpired term. Mrs. Caton leaves soon to join her husband, Major R. J. Caton at Camp Shelby.

Mrs. Richard and Mrs. Lowell Ringer were named delegates to the Fifth District conference to be held in Medina, March 25.

COUPLE MARRIED

SHELBY—Announcement today had been made here by Mr. and Mrs. Francis Van Wagner of 16 Oak street of the marriage of their daughter, Harriet, to Delno C. Kitzmiller of Galion.

The ceremony took place before Justice of the Peace Dallas Young at Napoleon, O., on Saturday. Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bloom of Shelby.

Kitzmiller, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kitzmiller, R. D. 1, Galion, is employed at the Ohio Overcoat company in Galion. The former Miss Van Wagner is employed at Laubie Motor Sales in Shelby.

The couple will make their home at 25 Oak street in Shelby after March 22.

RECEPTION HELD—LAKEVILLE—A covered-dish supper will be held in the church hall tonight with the pastor, Rev. Goodhart and wife as the guests of honor. The pastor was recently married. Following the supper the regular class singing school will be held.

GALION SCHOOLS GET U. S. FUNDS

$7,158 Allowed To Help Carry Out Activities In Defense Training Course.

GALION—While the vocational shop department of the Galion Senior high school has been conducting defense training classes here since July 15, 1940, successfully, it is likely that it will operate even more efficiently and have better results since the Galion school has been assured that it will receive $7,158 from the government for the purchase of equipment in the machine and welding sections of the department.

Wire notices late yesterday revealed that the United States Department of Education had allotted $215,000 to the state of Ohio, $7,158 of which is to go to Galion, for the training in schools where national defense trades are taught.

While the Galion schools have had their recommendations in to the government for new equipment for some time, Tuesday's news release was the first assurance that the request would be granted. The school had asked for three new lathes, a new Universal milling machine, and a 20-inch shaper, which would cost around $12,000. Since the grant is for $5,000 less than was needed to buy all of this equipment, it is likely that the milling machine will not be received as it would cost around this figure.

Purchase of the machinery will actually be made by the government, although the Galion school department was allowed to recommend the kind of machinery to be used. Under this plan, the government will hold title to the machines and they will not be turned over to the school board. At any time the government sees fit to remove the machinery it will be taken from the school.

UNITES ARE SET FOR THURSDAY

BUCYRUS—Last rites will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. in Brokensword Evangelical church for Aaron Rupert, 52, retired farmer, who died Monday night at his home near Brokensword. Burial will be made in Brokensword cemetery.

Survivors include the widow, Mary Kaib Rupert; a son, Leander Rupert and three grandchildren; one brother, Emory Rupert and one sister, Mrs. Ellen Seale.

INFANT BURIED

BUCYRUS—Private funeral services were held this afternoon in the Munz funeral home for David Lowell Sherer, infant son of Lowell and Faye Dart Sherer, who died in City hospital Monday night. The child was born Saturday. Burial was made in the Sherer cemetery.

Surviving with the parents is a sister, Nancy.

GALION D. A. R. CHAPTER HOLDS MEETING; OTHER SOCIAL EVENTS

GALION—The March meeting of Olentangy chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held Tuesday afternoon at Bemiller's. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. L. A. Cline and Mrs. Charles Cunningham. Routine business was conducted by the regent, Mrs. Evalyn Eusey, and for the program Mrs. Earl B. Padgett read an interesting paper.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Walter Lusk when the Daughters of Union Veterans met Tuesday afternoon at the armory. Those taking part were Mrs. Carl Coover, Beverly Logan and Mary Lou Stough. Relief work for the past two weeks was reported at $9.50. Hostesses who served lunch were Mrs. Charles Douglass, Mrs. John Cox, Mrs. Charles Goldsmith, and Mrs. Clyde Richardson.

Mrs. Lloyd Bender and Mrs. John Boyd were co-hostesses for the social meeting of Pi chapter, Alpha Pi Sigma sorority which was held Tuesday night. Following a dinner held in Crestline the group met at the Bender home to play games.

Towels were hummed for the Masonic Temple kitchen when the Embroidery circle of Naomi chapter, Order of Eastern Star, held its meeting Tuesday afternoon. Dinner was served at the close by Mrs. E. L. Middleton, Mrs. F. W. Hahn and Mrs. Silas Shumaker.

Three Galion literary clubs held their annual elections Tuesday night. The Research club met at the home of Lily Mueller, and besides the business there was a program consisting of papers read by Lucy Ailer and Grace Weston.

The meeting of the Tourist club was held at the home of Mrs. H. L. Elun. It closed when the hostess served refreshments.

Mrs. C. E. Zimmerman and Mrs. G. A. Berting were hostesses to the Round Table club at the Zimmerman home. After the business the program was presented by Mrs. Russell Stewart and Miriam Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Ness entertained with a farewell dinner this week for their son, Robert, who expects to leave for selective service camp on March 24. There were 11 guests and those from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. William Reynolds of Fostoria, and Martha Reynolds of Bucyrus.

Afternoon callers at the home were Mrs. G. W. Ness of Mansfield and Harriet Ness of Columbus.

The Top Haters club met Tuesday evening at the home of Kathryn Lindley.

Mrs. Charles Shaw entertained Monday in honor of the sixth birthday anniversary of her grandson, Eddie Bianchi. In the afternoon games, prizes went to Bobby Jourdan and Nancy Burdison. Besides these little friends the other guests were Dickie Shaw, Jimmy Neumann, Jackie Deibig, David Ometer, Connie Pickering and Billy Goshorn.

PARENTS OF DAUGHTER—GALION—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ellis of 304 South Pierce street are the parents of a baby girl, born Tuesday, at Galion City hospital.

GIRL SCOUTS OBSERVE 29TH ANNIVERSARY

Troops Open Observance at Ashland With Banquet at U. B. Church.

ASHLAND—All troops of Girl Scouts are observing the 29th anniversary of Girl Scouting this week. Monday night four troops united in a mother-daughter birthday party at the United Brethren church. A covered dish dinner was the feature which opened the evening's festivities.

Dr. B. F. Martin, secretary of the chamber of commerce, presented the main address. He told the group how best to live the Girl Scout laws at home, every day of the week. Mrs. R. W. Bader, president of the junior high P. T. A., spoke of the necessity for determination.

Mrs. Clyde Wharton also spoke. Candlelight service closed the evening's program which was arranged by Mrs. Shelby Edwards, Mrs. George Buchanan, and Mrs. Joan Timanus.

Two Brownie troops of Lincoln school held a birthday party Monday and the members of the troops provided entertainment. Games and refreshments climaxed the party.

Osborn Brownies entertained their mothers Monday afternoon. The girls had made corsages which they presented their mothers. A program of music and readings was given and refreshments were served.

Birthday cakes were featured at all the parties with twenty nine candles playing an important part in each event.

WED AT BUCYRUS

Galion Couple Married By Justice of Peace.

BUCYRUS—A bride exchanged one good Irish name for another in a St. Patrick's day marriage here Monday when Miss Doris Aylee McCormick became the bride of Edward William Patrick. The service was read by Justice of the Peace O. K. Bender.

The bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. McCormick witnessed the ceremony. Mr. Patrick is the son of Lester and Mollie Patrick. Both are Galion residents.

The White House, Capitol building, Senate and House office buildings in Washington, D. C. are air conditioned.

Bucyrus Council Endorses Plan To Start Lake

BUCYRUS—In line with similar action taken by Bucyrus civic clubs, Bucyrus city council Tuesday night in regular session endorsed the establishment of a headwater lake east of Bucyrus on the Sandusky river. Clerk A. J. Barth was instructed to communicate with Don Waters of the state conservation department informing him of council's action. Clubs which recently endorsed the project were the Bucyrus Rotary club, Lions, and "B" club.

Reports presented to council included that of Service Director Fred Judd who reported that work had started on laying the water line to Aumiller park, a preliminary to the construction of the new municipal swimming pool to be started early this spring.

Judd also reported that ground had been broken on South Walnut street for the extension of the street to the site of the new General Electric plant to be built this summer.

Safety Director Carl Jacobs reported net expenditures for relief for February at $1,874.10.

The first lighthouse to be built by the Federal government stands at Cape Henry, guarding the Virginia Capes.

CHAPTER III

He laughed then, throwing back his fair head. It was the first time she had seen him drop his expressionless mask. But the laughter made her angry.

"I'd better get back to work. There's a lot to do."

He caught her hand as she rose. "How would you like to go dancing with me Friday night?"

His proposal took her by complete surprise. "Why, Mr. Miller, I'd love to."

He released her hand. "I would prefer that you call me Karl."

All right, Karl. But what about working Friday night?"

"You're working for the boss," he reminded her, smiling. "I'll see that we're through early."

Joan did not tell Sybil about her date until the time came. As she had suspected, her sister did not approve.

"Going out with the boss never works," Sybil insisted stubbornly. "Honestly, Joan, I don't know what's come over you. You're not using your head at all. There's something funny about this whole business. I don't trust this man!"

"Let's not go over it again," Joan said happily. "When you see Karl Miller you'll understand why I'm so crazy about him."

Sybil sat down on the bed and watched her sister applying make-up with careful fingers. "If he's opening the club tomorrow, what is he doing running around tonight? Why isn't he in the office taking care of things?"

"That's his business, isn't it? Look, Syb, will you light the fire in the living room? I want everything to look nice."

"Nice and cozy!" sniffed Sybil. "Okay. But don't think I'm going to be the retiring sister and stay in the bedroom. I'm going to be right there to meet him."

Joan slipped into the new black velvet dress she had purchased before she knew Karl Miller. She had been saving it for an occasion like this. The square neck was provocatively cut, the sleeves were long and tight, and scrolls of silver sequins were sprinkled over the trailing skirt. Joan had drawn her smooth black hair over her ears, and coiled it in a low knot at the nape of her white neck. The green eyes glowed like emeralds.

"Look, Syb," Joan begged. "May I use a little of your perfume?"

Sybil thrust the bottle at her ungraciously. "That dress makes you look ten years older, Joan."

Joan was not to be ruffled. "After all, darling, you can't expect me to run around in pink tulle all my life. And Karl must be all of thirty-five," she added thoughtfully.

"All of forty," snapped Sybil. "You have no business running around with a man twice your age."

"Skip it! Please, Sybil!"

Karl Miller put an end to the argument by pressing his finger on the doorbell. Joan flew to meet him. She was so proud of him. His charming manners. His impeccable evening clothes. His smooth, indifferent chatter as he talked pleasantly to Sybil while Joan got her wrap. But she knew from his sister's cold good night that she was not impressed.

Karl knew it too. "I don't think your sister likes me," he said as he helped Joan into his car. "Perhaps she thinks I am too old for you."

His uncanny accuracy embarrassed Joan. "Sybil's been married and divorced. She's not very trusting when it comes to men."

"And you, Joan? Do you trust men?"

"Some men," Joan replied, hoping that she sounded careless.

They went to a night club. "I could use a few pointers," Karl told her, "since I'm new to this kind of business."

An Hawaii orchestra played under soft rosy lights. Karl was a superb dancer, surprisingly light on his feet for such a heavily-built man.

"He's like tempered steel," Joan thought. "Everything about him. Voice, expression, strength." He held her lightly but Joan felt that she could not have broken away from him had she tried.

"I have news for you," he said suddenly. "Your former employer, Mr. Mulford, has gone out of business. No doubt that is why he left you go."

"But that's impossible," Joan cried in surprise. "I happen to know that his financial affairs were in good order. And when I called the office three days ago, he had hired a new secretary. Why would he do that if he were closing the shop?"

Karl Miller did not smile. "You are quite a little detective."

Joan laughed. "I'd like to be one. I'm afraid I'm an adventuresome soul I've led."

"Perhaps your life will become more exciting as it goes on."

"I hope it does," Joan said recklessly.

"I am quite sure," Karl Miller said tonelessly, "that it will."

What was it about him that drew and held her interest? His face, which showed her a thousand men in one? Varied moods, hardness, coldness, irritation and amusement? He was obviously a man of the world, a world that Joan had never known. His guttural foreign accent intrigued her. What experiences, what dangers lurked behind that studied mask of indifference?

"Don't think too much, Joan," Karl advised her gently. "I have found that it seldom pays."

It was a strange evening, gay yet restrained by the undercurrents that baffled and disturbed Joan. Afterward, looking back on this evening, she could understand many things, but at the time being with Karl was all that mattered. Feeling the touch of his arms as they danced, looking into his eyes as he raised his glass, hearing his charming voice blending into the wail of Hawaiian music that dorned chants into their ears.

He paid her many compliments. "I like your hair that way," he remarked. "It makes you look quite foreign and much older."

"My sister doesn't like it at all. She has an idea that I'm still a little girl."

His eyes swept the figure in its black velvet sheath. "Really? I am afraid that your sister and I would not agree."

She felt his irritation towards Sybil. "My parents are both dead," she explained. "Sybil feels that she has to look after me."

But even Joan was annoyed to find Sybil waiting up for them later that night.

"It's almost two o'clock," Sybil snapped. "What's the idea?"

Karl Miller looked amused as he stood hat in hand in the doorway. "In that case, I shall say good night without further delay."

When he had gone Joan turned furiously to her sister. "Why did you have to say that? I'm old enough to manage my own affairs."

There were deep circles of fatigue beneath Sybil's blue eyes. Her voice seemed to echo like a warning through the old-fashioned, high-ceilinged rooms. "You've got to quit working for Karl Miller! You've got to quit tomorrow!"

The sisters stared at each other in the dimly lit room. Sybil's blue eyes were hard with determination; her mouth was drawn into a thin line. Joan's face was white with anger. She threw her head back defiantly as she cried, "You've made Karl angry! You had no right to do that."

Sybil smiled ruefully. "He looked more amused than angry. But whatever his reaction, you're going to stop working for him." Her face softened as she added, "It's up to me to look after you, Joan. I feel responsible since mother and dad are gone. If anything happened, I'd never forgive myself."

Joan did not notice the coldness of her sister's reply. She was happily unconscious of the expression on Sybil's face.

"How about dinner? I'm starved. I have to be back at the club by eight."

Sybil broiled the chops while Joan made a salad.

"I see you're wearing your good black dress to work. What's the idea?"

"Why not?" Joan retorted. "I'm making fifty dollars a week now and I have to look my best."

Sybil turned. "You're right, Joan! I do need the job. You may tell Mr. Miller that I appreciate it very much."

Joan did not notice the coldness of her sister's reply. She was happily unconscious of the expression on Sybil's face.

"How about dinner? I'm starved. I have to be back at the club by eight."

Sybil broiled the chops while Joan made a salad.

"I see you're wearing your good black dress to work. What's the idea?"

"Why not?" Joan retorted. "I'm making fifty dollars a week now and I have to look my best."

SCHOOL GIVEN $5,227 FUND

NYA Approves Allocation For Shop Building at Union Rural High.

The Union Rural board of education had been granted a federal NYA allotment of $5,227 today to help finance construction of a shop building at the Union Rural high school in Weller township.

The building, which will be of cement block construction, will replace a structure which was destroyed by fire several weeks ago.

Cost of the new building is expected to be about $7,000, with the local school district issuing bonds to finance the amount needed in excess of the federal allocation.

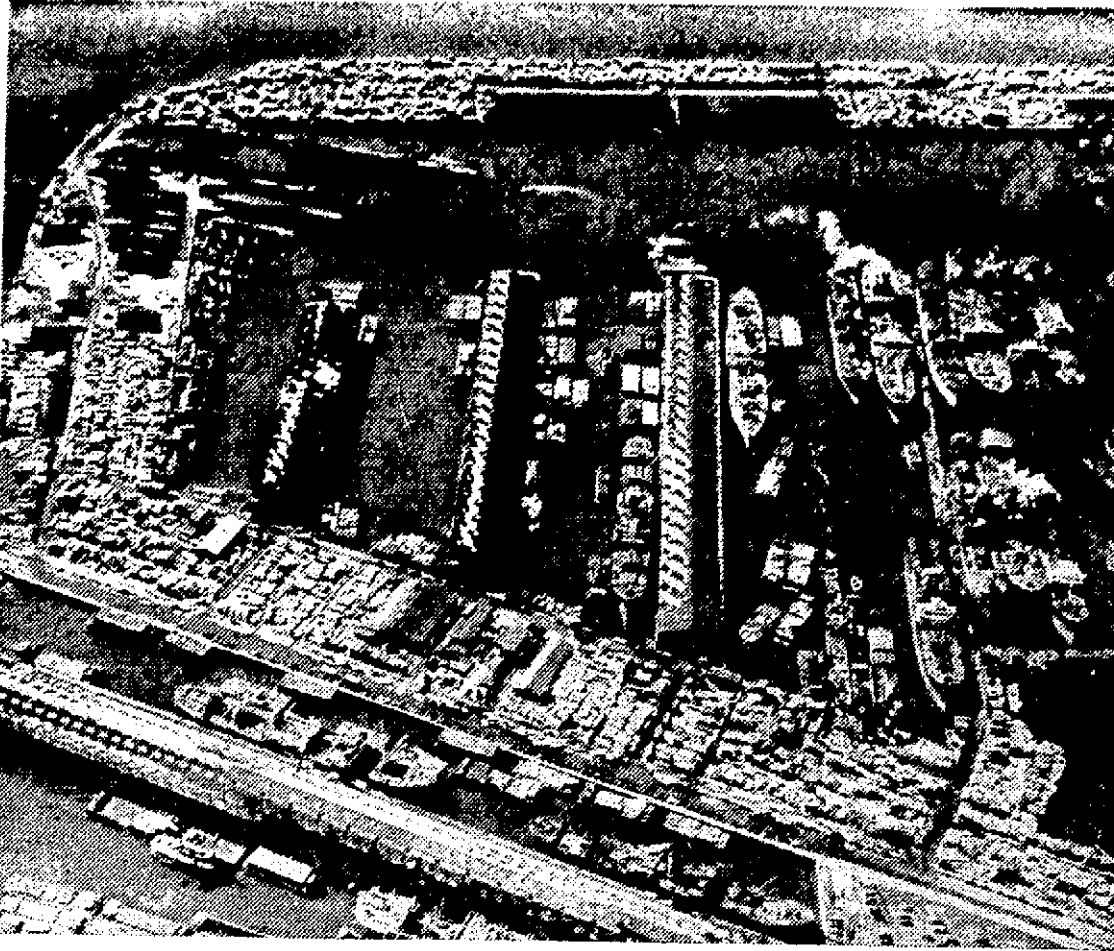

After the building is completed, it is expected that more federal funds will be available for shop equipment.

Under the direction of Robert Young, NYA sub-area supervisor, the project will employ men from 18 to 25 years old who are out of school and have no other work. Construction is scheduled to start next Monday.

Applicants for jobs on the shop project will be interviewed at NYA offices at 509 Walpark building in Mansfield Monday's and Wednesday's and from 1:30 to 3:30 p. m. Tuesdays at the Employment Security center in Ashland.

Requests for NYA funds for similar shop buildings at the Shiloh and Ontario high schools had been deferred today pending the possible allotment of more NYA funds at Washington. Plans for the Shiloh and Ontario shops call for buildings like the Union Rural shop. In both cases the district school boards would issue bonds within the 10-mill limitation to finance the sponsor's share of the cost.

Part of the Arsenal of Democracy

This aerial view of New York's Erie Basin, showing fifteen ships ready to load crated war materials now cramming the docks, vividly illustrates the president's designation of America as the arsenal of democracy. More and more vital military supplies are being rushed to embattled Britain, following passage of the lend-lease bill.

2-HOUR PARKING

GALION — During one of the shortest sessions of city council this year, Tuesday night, Mayor W. M. King announced that beginning April 1, the two-hour parking signs in the business section will be strictly enforced.

The signs are placed on Harding Way from the Big Four railroad tracks to Union street, and on Market street, one-half block north of the square, and a block south of the square, besides all of the public square space.

The world's largest camera, 31 feet in length and weighing 14 tons, is in use by the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey at Washington.

HOGS RETIRE

Army Life Too Precarious For Texas Pigs.

MINERAL WELLS, Tex. — The prospects of "army-life" was too much for a couple of wild hogs living near Camp Wolters, so they moved to the Fort Worth zoo.

The two came from a ranch near the $6,000,000 replacement project here. Lem Lankin, ranch owner, knew that the army planned to build a firing range a few yards from where the hogs lived.

He called Game Warden Roscoe Parks, who caught the animals and gave them to the zoo in Fort Worth where they are now resting far from the hub-bub of army activity.

The name "sugar" applies to over 100 substances.

CLUB IN SESSION

CRESTLINE — The Triple Seven club composed of guards and officers of the Eagles auxiliary held a meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Marie Heilman. A short business session was followed by card games and quizz contests and supper served by Mrs. Heilman and her associates Mrs. G. L. Lacey and Mrs. Harry Mike.

The St. Patrick day theme was used in the appointments. Hostesses for the next meeting April 21, will be Mrs. Wilbur Emmer, Mrs. Clayton Hoffman and Mrs. Burnell Huffman.

BROADWAY

—By Dorothy Kilgallen

Bulletin Board.

Betty Hutton, the "Panama Hattie" jitterbug, and Huntington Hartford, the chain store heir, are a heart today. . . . The Manuel Del Campos (Mary Astor) are knitting tiny garments again. . . . Al Vanderbilt and Dolly De Mille, his child-hood chum, have renewed their duetting.

A U. S. senator's daughter is recovering in a midtown hospital after a suicide attempt. . . . Hand-trouble. . . .

Dorothy Lamour and Greg Bautzen, the coast-guy, came within an inch of an elopement last week. They really mean it.

Loretta Young is bedded at the Marguery. . . . Rosemary Cox, the deb, will wait down the aisle with Leslie Harris, handsome Miami radio announcer—in May if not sooner. . . . Tommy Manville and Ann Durham aren't joshing.

Weylin Carnegie, of the steel clan, and Gloria McCall, the Powers knockout, have softening of the hearties.

Cary Grant wanted to marry Barbara Hutton right away, but the heiress is insisting on a six-months wait. Then they've plotted a South American honeymoon.

They say that when Betty Compton opens her Miami dancing school, her first pupil will be James J. Walker, her ex-husband.

Marlene Dietrich is a flu victim. Collapsed at her home and is under no-visitor's orders.

Prince David Midvian, of the marrying Midvians, and Eve Ankerres, a Hollywood lass, are giggling. . . . The Willis Burmes (he's George Burns' brother) are lullabying a girl. . . . George Bernard Shaw's trailer for "Major Barbara" will be scissored as "too tough" for American audiences to take.

At one point Shaw tells the U. S.: "Remember, you tried to keep out of the last war, but in the end you had to come in and win that war for us. Well, you may have to win this war for us. I hope you will!"

The censors will ashen those lines.

Wendy Barrie's Manhattan companion is Warren Lee Sterling, a Los Angeles lad. . . . Victor Mature is devoting himself to Martha Stephenson Kemp. . . . Ann Miller, the dancer, inherits $250,000 on her birthday next month.

Those hockey games at Madison Square Garden are getting more and more interesting, boys. Biggest moment occurred last week when Kay Williams, the town's prettiest blond, lost her skirt (zipper trouble), and stood up to cheer her team in the prettiest pink girdle ever seen outside a Fifth avenue store window. You never heard a more enthusiastic crowd!

Buddy DeSylva has given Arthur Treacher a bonus to keep him in "Panama Hattie" and out of films. . . . The Rufe (comedian) Davises are bassinet-buying. . . . Mrs. Jock McLean, one of society's most beautiful blonds, went brunet the other day. Trend?

A. J. Cronin hasn't told a soul the plot of his latest novel—says it's something no one ever thought of before. . . . Horace Schmidlapp, the producer, is courting Louise Stanley, Addison Randall's ex.

The U. S. government is set to buy all excess farm products for shipment to the Allies. The farmers will be paid in agricultural implements and scrip.

Ann Kiess, the Stork club singer who eloped with wealthy Robert Rodenburg over the week-end, will honeymoon in Miami—and one of her girl friends will go along.

Evelyn Sloane, this season's deb, and Percy R. Pyne, 3rd, of the Blue Book, have rekindled their romance. . . . Pancho, the orchestra leader, has asked showgirl Claire Conover to marry him.

Pete Vogel, whose elopement with Peggy Townsend last week surprised everyone (including her fiancé, John Rogers), has gifted the bride with a car, a horse, a ring and a $2,500 trousseau.

The narcotics squad is scouring the Broadway places trying to trace a shipment of opium sent from Nicaragua.

Washington circles are still buzzing with the report that Guy LaChambre, former French minister of air, is in jail somewhere in France. . . . Mildred Riley, the showgirl, and Ken Silvestri, the new Yankees' catcher, are an ad for spring.

ERIE QUESTIONS CREW MEMBERS ON CRASH CAUSE

Expected To Elaborate on Its 'Human Failure' Claim; Army Denies Sabotage.

(By Associated Press)
WINDHAM — The Erie railroad called crew members to Youngstown today for an inquiry into the Ravenna arsenal crash which injured more than 200 workers as an army board ruled there was no sabotage.

Following the hearing the company was expected to elaborate on its statement that "man failure" caused the accident.

The army board of inquiry at the $19,000,000 shell-loading plant concurred with the railroad, Capt. C. W. Meldun announcing:

"The board decided that there was no sabotage; that the accident was due to human failure. It is ridiculous to even think that it was sabotage."

Capt. Earl D. Payne of Cincinnati, one of 14 officers stationed at the 24,000-acre arsenal, said a check of hospitals in nearby cities showed 201 workers were injured, 116 being discharged immediately. Of the remainder he said 13 were in critical condition. An undetermined number of men also were treated at the plant's field hospital.

Seventeen box cars were smashed and two coaches torn apart as a freight crashed into the side of a commuter passenger train backing into the arsenal at 7:06 a. m. yesterday. The train was carrying 750 men from Youngstown, Girard, Niles and Warren to their jobs.

Railroad crews, utilizing 150 men, cleared away the last of the wreckage early today. Some trains had been rerouted over Baltimore & Ohio tracks pending the cleanup.

Capt. Payne said the train schedule into the arsenal had been resumed and that the accident would not affect work at the mammoth plant, slated to go into production this summer.

BUSCH TO GIVE LECTURE HERE

National Figure on British Aid Policy Appears For Address March 27.

In the second program in the series of lectures sponsored by the University-Rotary clubs, this time in collaboration with the Mansfield League of Women Voters, Henry M. Busch of Cleveland, national figure on the Aid to Britain policy, will speak at the Senior high school auditorium at 8:15 p. m. Thursday, March 27.

As chairman of the Cleveland chapter and head of the state organization, Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies and member of the national policy board, Busch is well-versed on one of the principal topics of conversation today. His subject here will be "A Pattern For a New World Order."

He recently returned from New York where a new policy was formulated by the national board. A recent radio broadcast which attracted wide-spread interest in this area was his debate with Senator Robert Taft on "The Lease-Lend Bill" on Feb. 15. For many years he has given series of addresses over the local stations and also in the mainland of the United States and in the Hawaiian Islands.

At the present time he is professor of sociology and head of the division of social sciences at Cleveland college of Western Reserve university. He is also a member of the board of directors of the Foreign Affairs Council of Cleveland, a member of the Cleveland chapter, Council on Foreign Relations, and was one of the founders of the National Policy committee, of which he is a trustee.

The body was removed to the Snyder funeral home. Arrangements are incomplete.

ILLNESS FATAL

Thomas Paul Long Dies At Hospital In Ashland.

ASHLAND—Thomas Paul Long, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Long, Orange road, died at the Samaritan hospital Tuesday evening following an illness of four months. Surviving are his parents, three brothers, and a sister, his grandparents, Mrs. Carolyn Long of Ashland and Mrs. J. M. Behrends of New Buffalo, N. Y.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 10 a. m. at the Denbow-Baer funeral home in charge of Rev. C. W. Mayes.

AUDIENCE WRITES 'SUCCESS' OVER COMMUNITY PLAY COMEDY

A mirthful audience last night wrote "success" across the presentation of "What a Life," comedy with which the Mansfield Community Players closed their 15th season and Mrs. E. K. Bacon terminated a full decade as director for the group.

More than 900 persons saw the performance at John Simpson auditorium.

They liked the show for a number of reasons.

First, it was a well-constructed play with fast-running action, plenty of gag lines and adroit situations. More than that, beneath its surface of good fun ran the appealing story of a misunderstood high school youth who found himself because of the sympathy of an older chap.

"Henry Aldrich," the misunderstood youth, was played engagingly by Richard Grudier. In both voice and gesture he did an excellent job and he added a real feeling for the part.

Herman Clingan, a veteran player, gave a neat touch of austerity to the performance which was of necessity generally harum-scarum in its action.

It was portrayals such as Grudier's and Clingan's and a number of others that was another reason for the success of the play.

In the romantic leads were Mrs. Lewis Hartman and Ken Woodman, both of whom were on stage for the most of the performance. Theirs were the sympathetic roles of the play and the audience appeared to like the ease with which they handled their lines.

Among the juveniles, credit must certainly go to Robert Mabey who played the smart alec and to Patty Palmer who played the belle of the school.

Of the bit players, Martha King showed what can really be done with three brief entrances and a clever costume.

Highly commendable in their roles were Miss Florence MacDonaid, William Lewis, Mrs. Gerald Van Arman, Mrs. Sherman Glessner, James Eberly, and William Zimmerman.

Dorothea Grimes and Joan Balliett also made the best of small parts.

Especially effective was the dialect part of Paul Bell.

Taking incidental roles as students were Patty Bancroft, Mary Lou Sowash, Douglas Bacon, Jim Haggerty, Lee Adams and Ruth Ann Lee.

Make-up was handled by Herbert and Corinne Schettler and Mrs. J. E. Berno, Marian Marshall and Daniel Reese were in charge of properties and Barbara Meisse and Hazel Grimes of costumes.

Bud Devine designed the set, and music was furnished by an orchestra under the direction of Lawrence Todd.

"What a Life" was the last of three plays presented by the Players this season. The other plays were "Here Today, Gone Tomorrow," by Louis Bromfield and George Hawkins, and "I Killed the Count," by Alec Coppel. Last night's play was written by Clifford Goldsmith and was originally presented at the Biltmore Theater in New York in 1938.

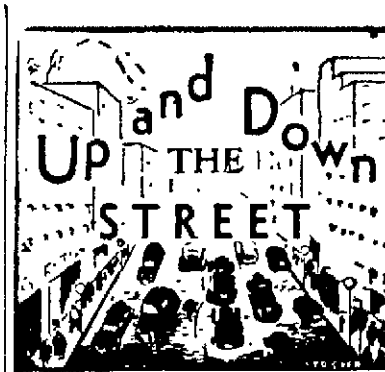

BOOK SPEAKER

Cleveland To Address Members Of Townsend Club.

Charles M. Newell, Cleveland, national Townsend representative, will address a Mansfield Townsend meeting at 7:30 p. m. Friday, in the club's new quarters, basement of the Bird building.

Also on the program will be entertainment furnished by dancers and musicians. Refreshments will be served by women of the club.

"The Peep-O'-Day-Boys" were Irish insurgents, about 1784, who visited the houses of their antagonists, in search of arms, at dawn.

When F. M. Hess, Bellville notary public renewed his commission today it brought his years of service as a notary to 51, probably making him the county's oldest notary from the standpoint of service. The commission, issued for three years by the governor, was filed with Clerk of Courts Howard Wenning. Hess told the clerk that he "expects this will be my last renewal."

One tobacco company used to advertise that its customers would walk a mile for its particular brand of cigarette's but a West Second street resident reported to police last night an individual who would go even further than that for a smoke. The woman who made the report said she thought she heard a prowler in her home. Police investigated and found the living room had been mildly ransacked. Money, diamonds, and other valuables remained untouched, but gone was one cigar and one package of cigarettes. What irked the complainant most, however, was that the prowler had spilled the contents of an ash tray on the floor.

C. I. Kimmel, Boy Scout area commissioner, in charge of many of the outdoor activities of the Scouts had a job yesterday which must have caused some shivers in its performance. Robert Stevenson, of Boy Scout Troop 9, wanted to take a test for a merit badge in stalking and tracking game. Kimmel had to supervise the test which involved identifying and tracking the foot prints of 10 animals. Stevenson took Kimmel to Mifflin lake where the two spent a considerable part of the day as the boy tracked game to the accompaniment of yesterday's icy winds.

The nation's capital can just tone down its fluff of pride over being the most prosperous city in the nation, that's what it can just do! Washingtonians having been acting as evidence of their city's prosperity the fact that one out of every four residents owns an automobile. But C. L. Van Derau, manager of manufacturing at Westinghouse, in looking up data previous to the purchase of a new parking site for the local plant, has turned up evidence that one out of every three Mansfielders owns an automobile.

BUYS 2 ACRES

Westinghouse Acquires Tract For Parking Lots.

The Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company today had purchased two acres of ground extending from Fifth street south to the Rocky Fork creek.

The land tract is to be used by employees for parking their automobiles. C. L. Van Derau, manager of manufacturing, said Space sufficient to park more than 300 automobiles will be made available for employees' cars.

Van Derau said the purchase was made so that employees, many of whom now park their automobiles on streets in the Westinghouse vicinity, will not have to subject themselves to overtime parking fines.

Recently, city council placed two-hour parking restrictions on several streets in the vicinity of the plant.

The two-acre land tract was purchased from the estates of Marie Lomax and William Lomax. The parking lot will be opened as soon as grading and cinder work is completed.

HOROSCOPE

For Thursday, March 20.

Although a very active state of affairs is noted in this day's astral operations, yet there are many loopholes for defeat and frustration unless unusual caution and sagacity are employed. There may be sudden upsets, the cropping up of unexpected outlays or extravagances, with the definite want of cooperation or approval from elders, superiors or any sort of higher-ups.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a fairly lively and progressive year in spite of the development of some surprising factors which may upset plans and demand unforeseen expenditure or financial hazards. Also there is little hope of the support of superiors, employers or others whose endorsement is vital.

A child born on this day should be versatile, talented and enterprising but may have some minor defects of integrity and normality that may withhold from it the support of its superiors. Early discipline and direction might uproot this.

"No Child of Mine will ever get WORMS!"

Don't be so sure, Mother! Anybody, anywhere, can have roundworms, pinworms, and the ugly creatures may be living inside your child right now, starting trouble without your even knowing it. If your child is pale, underweight, nervous, has an uneasy stomach, picks at nose or meat—those ugly roundworms may be at work.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

"I can tell you that much," Ronald said. "The envelope wasn't postmarked Weirhampton, but from Oakdale, a town on the road to New Haven. But I didn't think anything about that because the girls often go over there. And of course I didn't dream she was going off with this man so soon. And what makes you ask about the postmark?"

"Only that I know my father would want me to get every detail about this letter," I said. "Besides, it tells us that Marion must have met this man in Oakdale, was compelled to write this letter, if it wasn't forged altogether, and then returned to college, only leaving again four days ago. What she must have suffered in those days, hearing nothing from you, or from any of us!"

"Why, what would she expect to hear?" he asked, bewildered.

"She would have expected to hear the result of your taking the letter to Mary Verizen as she had asked you to do," I countered.

"I never have seen quite so pathetic a picture as he presented in his remorseful astonishment."

"You mean there's a hidden message to Mary in that letter?" he asked.

"Of course there is," I returned, refraining heroically from expressing my opinion of his slowly working brain, because it was outnumbed. I knew, by his suffering.

"Then why am I waiting around here?" he asked wildly, springing from his chair. "I'll rush down to New York with it at once. What's her address?"

Instead of giving it to him, I made a protesting movement of my hand.

"Sit down again, Ronald!" I commanded. "That letter will be in Mary's hands as soon as it is possible to get it there, but you must not take it."

"Why not?" he asked belligerently, then as I looked at him with cool appraising significance, he flushed again, and sank down in his chair.

"I see what you mean," he said. "I've bailed things up enough by holding out on that letter so long. All right! I'll show you I'm a good soldier. What do you want me to do?"

"First, while I am talking to my husband—I must consult him about this—I want you to send for your mother, tell her you're

Red Hair Beauty Treasure

By MME. QUI VIVE

While the tiny pigment cells that give coloring to the hair may have nothing to do with the health and vitality of the growth, surveys show that few redheads seek scalp treatments. The average flaming thatch is abundant, the shafts are coarse, and the little fuzzers hang on valiantly.

Red hair is precious not only because it is beautiful, appealing to the eye, but because it is uncommon. The old Italian masters favored it for crowning their lovely ladies. Red hair, jet black hair, silvery white locks carry beauty laurels. Brunettes and blondes follow along. Drab hair if it has shining lights and is beautifully arranged, can be attractive.

One of the elements of charm in the reddish crest is the play of lights that goes on constantly. Every shaft is not the exact shade of its neighbor. Though the hair be dark auburn, golden threads will abound. To retain this shining state, great care must be given to the hair. No strong soaps must be used to dim it. The shampoo should be given every ten days or two weeks, the soap must be melted and thoroughly rinsed away.

Red hair needs a lot of grooming, so the hair brush must be plied daily. Brushing seldom demolishes a good finger wave: on the contrary, it makes the lines more fluid. If the shafts are inclined to be dry, the bristles of the brush should be touched with brilliantine.

The permanent wave is safe if the operator is conscientious and the lotion used is of high quality. Too much heat may impart a brown tinge, and that is why one should know that the one who is doing the work is qualified for the job. If the hair is lighter at the ends than it is at the roots, the ends—which sometimes are dead tissue—should be well oiled the night before the shampoo.

For some unfathomable reason, girls with Titian locks are usually blessed with a natural undulation. The pattern should be coaxed along in childhood. The wise mother will press in the lines with her finger, comb and groom until the ripples show up plainly. Wonderful what can be done to make even a faint wave come to life and be strong.

"The Authority on Authorities"

UNDERLEAD A TENACE?

Who ever heard of a defensive player deliberately leading away from a major tenace, an ace-queen, to a king which he sees in the dummy? That would off-hand seem to be an absurd play, but there are various situations in which it can be brilliant. In fact, there are some spots in which it is the only defense which will defeat a contract.

West refrained from doubling because he didn't want to scare the opposition out of a contract he thought he could beat. He preferred to pass and lead the 8 of his partner's diamonds. The declarer took this with the A and then figured out a way which would have made his contract for him against any ordinary defense. He finessed the spade Q, laid down the spade A for a diamond discard, led the spade 4, on which East discarded a diamond, and ruffed with the heart 2. He then sent the diamond 5 to East's J.

The defenders could not afford to lead trumps now, with the spades set up and the club K for an entry to dummy, so East led back his diamond K. South ruffed with the 8 and West over-ruffed with the J.

Here is where West did some beautiful thinking. He reckoned that, if he cashed his club A and led another to the dummy's K, South could enter his hand with a spade ruff then ruff his last club with the dummy's heart 6 and have winning trumps to make his contract.

But he also saw an alternative. He led his club 2 to the dummy's K. The declarer, to set up a spot for a club ruff, now led a small club from the dummy, which West won. Now he could safely lead his heart 7, preventing a ruff of the last club, since the declarer no longer had an entry to dummy for the spades and the trumps were not yet out. By so doing, he compelled South to lose the setting club trick at the end.

SEEKS 4 MORE STUDENT FLIERS

Ashland College Course Needs Additional Members To Start New Class.

Four more entrants are needed for a new class in college pilot training sponsored by the Civil Pilot Training program for Ashland college students. Walter Shuey, former operator of Ashland airport, announced today.

Shuey has hanged his planes at the municipal airport since the Ashland field closed six weeks ago, and trains the college at the Hayesville emergency flying field.

Six students have already signed up for the course which will probably get under way next week. Dean R. R. Hawn of Ashland college, instructs the students in a 12 weeks' program of meteorology, flight navigation, the theory of flight and civil air regulations. Thirty-five to 45 hours of flight training are given the entrants, the time required to obtain a civilian flying license.

Plans have been made to build a new airport at Ashland. A condemning property program is being carried out to provide land for the field which is expected to open in about 60 days.

Entrants in the class must have two years of college education, successfully pass a physical examination and be between 18 and 25 years of age.

MANUSCRIPT ACQUIRED
PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — The original manuscript of Johann Sebastian Bach's cantata, "Deck Thyself My Soul with Gladness," has been acquired by Mrs. Mary Louise Curtis Bok, music patron and president of the Curtis Institute of Music. The cantata is considered one of the finest ever written by Bach.

St. Peter's Class Presents Play During Assembly

St. Peter's high school sophomore class members are already considering vocations and avocations they will follow after graduation. Their attention was directed to work in all walks of life by Miss R. C. Goebel in a special sophomore assembly this week.

A playlet, "What Shall I Be?" written by Sister Laurene, English instructor, and enacted by a sophomore group, expressed the same thought. In the cast were Rosemary Bikar, Rosemary Bingert, Mary Pagani, Mary Kmetz, Mary Ann Cusic, Margaret Graska and Edward Lichtle.

Elizabeth McDevitt gave the introduction, readings were presented by Theresa Zaro and Mary Buzenski, and Marcine Zimmerman and Grace Letezia each gave a vocal solo.

OPERA STUDENTS HAVE CHANCE TO COMPETE FOR CASH PRIZE

Young opera students of Richland and Ashland counties, as well as 15 other counties in northeastern Ohio, will be given the opportunity of competing for a $1,000 prize for use in furthering their vocal education.

Offered by Florindo Luccioni, Cleveland restaurateur and friend of the opera, in celebration of the 25th anniversary of the establishment of his business, the competition is open to any young man or woman between the ages of 18 to 25, inclusive.

Entrants must have had a minimum of three years' instruction in operatic singing and must present the recommendation of two reputable musicians in his or her community.

A committee of four has been asked to administer the award and to conduct preliminary auditions in preparation for the final auditions which are expected to be held in Cleveland during Opera week, April 14-19.

licants must be able to sing two standard operatic arias of their own choosing. An expert accompanist will play for all applicants in the preliminary and final auditions unless an applicant specifically asks to use his own accompanist. Applications must be in the hands of the committee by April 1. Reservations for the 16th annual season of the Metropolitan Opera company in Cleveland are now being made at Jones Piano House, Park avenue west.

"I'M DOING MY BEST FOR AMERICA.."

—and Nickles' ENRICHED BREAD is helping me do it!..

"Maybe it's kinda hard for you to believe that the bread in this sandwich I'm eatin' has anything to do with our National Defense . . . But it has!"

"The biggest medicos and nutrition experts say so. They got together down in Washington to figure out a big health and welfare program for all America. Food and Nutrition Committee of The National Research Council, they're called . . . and they say that every citizen's got to watch his health, so he can do his job just right."

"Bread, they decide, is a food that ought to give us Vitamins and Iron . . . and a feller that does hard work like me, needs more than most folks. It should be 'ENRICHED' . . . is the way they say it."

"Well, sir, the folks that bake the bread I like best, want to do their bit, too. So they bring out this new Nickles Enriched White Bread. Boy, I'm telling you, it's great!"

"Say, why don't you get smart? Tell your wife to get a loaf of that new Enriched Bread and you'll find out how good it is."

Each Pound Contains a Minimum of:
THIAMINE (VITAMIN B1) 1 mg. The "Morale Vitamin," essential to normal nerve functioning; promotes growth; is needed to help the body turn carbohydrate foods (starches and sugar) into useful energy. • THE P-P FACTOR (AN ESSENTIAL OF THE VITAMIN B COMPLEX) 4 mg. Helps maintain normal functioning of the digestive tract and of the skin. IRON—4 mg. Needed to help the body build red blood cells.
